

Fr. David Hewko - Ascension Thursday (Partial) – May 10, 2018
Boston, Kentucky

If only we understood even a little bit of what this means to live in the state of grace. We would just die out of love of God said St. John Vianney. We must pray to the Holy Ghost, “Show me what this means to really live the state of grace, to really have the Holy Trinity living in our soul”. This is so incredible. You're walking tabernacles, you're walking ciboria, you're walking chalices. This raises you to the very life of the Blessed Trinity in the soul.

This is why the devil has unleashed the greatest war - at the level of politics, and economics, at the whole social anti-culture. The whole sinful way of modern life which is destroying the woman, destroying the man, destroying the family, destroying children in the wombs of their mother. Destroying the old, destroying the very genders, destroying our minds by atheism and evolution which we're drunk in. And modernism and all the heresies that float through the air like black contagious, deadly diseases and we catch 'em sometimes.

The devil has unleashed everything to rob us of that greatest treasure sanctifying grace which comes with the faith. We gotta fight back. We gotta fight to keep the state of grace. We gotta fight with all our might, all our strength begging the Virgin Mary, 'Help!'

That means every Catholic should be going to confession at least once every 2 weeks just to keep sane and even more if needed. Once every 2 weeks and if you don't have a confessor, for those who are listening to the sermon from afar, [here Father tells despite the inconvenience of camera filming the sermons there are many, many who benefit and otherwise have nothing] When I found out it's actually reaching souls who are bed ridden in the Philippines, or Argentina, Chile or even in Russia. They're hearing the sermons. They don't hear the Catholic truths preached in their (local) pulpits anymore. They hear Fr. Bob singing alleluia and telling everyone they're going to heaven. That's a lie!

The Catholic truth is going to be preached, doesn't matter by whom we're just worthless instruments of our Lord, but the truth will be preached. It will be preached.

It's being spread through the world with the help of this in spite of the devils attempts to choke out the Catholic faith and extinguish Catholic tradition.

Which modernist Rome is determined to do. Pope Francis is just putting everything fast forward. But we gotta fight harder. That means frequent confession. If you can't have confession, (then make) frequent - frequent everyday: acts of perfect contrition.

Frequent communion. (directed to those there at OLMC)- You get Mass every day!

So, come to communion during the week to Mass as often as you can possibly can. Of course, the daily Rosary, grace before and after meals. This is normal Catholic life. Spiritual reading, sometime of meditation - 10, 15, 20 minutes, holy hour for the priests. The convents and monasteries they do 2 holy hours a day.
